

BACK in MOTION

Clinical or Counseling Psychologist

Back in Motion Rehab, rated as one of the best workplaces by the Great Place to Work Institute Canada (2006-2008), is looking for a Clinical or Counseling Psychologist in the Lower Mainland of British Columbia.

The position involves treatment-oriented assessments, developing and implementing individual treatment plans, writing reports, and liaising with Case Managers and other stakeholders. The psychologist may also conduct psychovocational and learning disability assessments to adults with a range of physical and mental health disabilities. In this role, the psychologist will conduct interviews, interpret psychological instruments, write reports, and participate in feedback sessions with clients and customers.

The successful candidate will have excellent clinical and interpersonal skills, and ability to multi-task and prioritize with a focus on customer service. Back in Motion is looking for an energetic team player who has completed doctoral level training and is registered or eligible for registration with the College of Psychologists of British Columbia. Good organizational and writing skills are essential, and understanding rehabilitation and disability issues is an asset.
