Clinical Psychologists - Youth Forensics Regular Full-Time

Salary: $40.3270 - $50.4089/hour

Competition #: L-2012-0567

Applications will be accepted until this position has been filled

POSITION SUMMARY: Currently the IWK has openings for several Forensically Trained Clinical Psychologists with experience working with youth in forensic mental health settings. Psychologists in these services focus on Forensic Mental Health Assessment for Youth Court as well as Forensic Rehabilitation Services. This specialized interdisciplinary team offers assessment and treatment that is primarily geared to identifying and reducing risk factors for criminal activity, including psychosocial and mental health factors that impact upon risk to reoffend. The IWK offers a range of services under the umbrella of Youth Forensic Services that include: youth court liaison service, intervention services dedicated to the community corrections, clinical case management, forensic rehabilitation for youth found unfit to stand trial or not criminally responsible, subspecialty services for youth who are sexually aggressive, a secure care unit providing assessment and rehabilitation, and clinical services delivered to incarcerated youth at the Nova Scotia Youth Facility in Waterville, Nova Scotia. While the focus of psychology is on youth court assessment, opportunities exist to work across the service continuum.

The mission of Youth Forensic Service is to provide evidence-based, best practice Health and Mental Health Services to youth and families involved in the criminal justice system. The Doctoral Psychologist is a member of an interdisciplinary team of service providers, which includes both master and doctoral prepared Psychologists, masters prepared Clinical Social Workers, Registered Nurses, Licensed Practical Nurses, Community Support Workers, administrative support, and Psychiatry. The Psychologist's responsibilities include section 34 psychological assessments and evidence-based mental health treatment that is focused on reducing the risk of reoffending. Treatments include individual, group, and family interventions. Consultation with IWK Forensic colleagues and community service partners and providers is expected. Testifying in court is also expected when required.

The IWK Health Centre Predoctoral Residency Program in Pediatric and Child-Adolescent Psychology is both APA and CPA approved. All Psychologists at the IWK are expected to actively participate in training residents. Candidates for Psychology positions who have the appropriate credentials may be considered for academic adjunct appointment in an appropriate university department at Dalhousie University. Further information about these appointments can be obtained from Vicky Veitch Wolfe, Ph.D., Psychology Professional Practice Chief, at 902-470-8458 or vicky.wolfe@iwk.nshealth.ca.

Applicants are asked to include a copy of his/her curriculum vitae, pertinent scientific publications and three letters of recommendations from professionals attesting to the applicant's clinical training, clinical skills and character. For individuals with less than 3 years of experience, an additional letter must be provided, from the Director of Clinical Training, at the institution where the applicant completed his/her clinical internship.
